

THE ASTEROID SAND BOX

Last weekend while watching the Red Sox game I started goofing around with the asteroid sandbox. In the asteroid sandbox there are pieces of sand with different names like Carol, Makemake, Eris, Pecker, Beer and Smiley. There are thousands of them. I picked up this piece of sand that was named asteroid Daniel. Oh my God! This could be Stormy Daniel! So I decided to work with this asteroid in Donald Trump's chart. We all heard the story about Stormy Daniel and Donald Trump. As you can see from the chart the asteroid Daniel at 3° 10' of Gemini trines Trumps Neptune, ruler of his eighth house.

We all learned in astrology that the eighth house rules sex. According to Stormy they had sex a couple of months after Baron was born on March 20, 2006. After combing the sky with Trump's Chart I came upon May 6th showing a very high potential for him to engage in sex with her. All of these energies were going on in his chart on that day.

1. In Converse solar arc Daniel from the eighth house oppose his natal Neptune ruler of his eighth house.
2. In solar arc his Neptune exactly opposed Daniel.
3. Transiting Daniel sextile his Neptune and his transiting Venus in the eighth house sextile his Daniel.
4. In backward transit Uranus trined his Daniel and Pluto conjunct his Daniel.
5. In progression Venus trines his Daniel. And there's even a lot more than that going on.
6. WOW I can't forget the eclipse and the new Moon. The eclipse was in the eighth house sextile his Daniel and in opposition to his natal Neptune. The backward transit eclipse was in his eighth house.

I remember years ago I was lecturing in Cleveland and that night in the hotel I decided to play in the sand box. Lo and behold transiting asteroid Cleveland was conjunct my natal IC.

It can be really fun to play in the Asteroid sand box. You should try it and see for yourself!
